

Transition from BUDDY to BOSS™

Given a promotion? A promotion is only a title. What you really need are the skills to succeed in that new role. The Transition from Buddy to Boss™ training program teaches new managers how to transition from being a peer to now managing their peers. With this course, the focus is on developing self-awareness, a clear leadership style, and a leadership plan.

This course is ideal for new managers who have been promoted among their peers, but were perhaps not prepared.

What's in the course?

- What's changed and why do they treat me differently now?
- What kind of leader do I want to be?
- How does my own self-esteem and confidence impact my ability to lead?
- How do I communicate more effectively with my team?
- Am I dealing with an attitude, behavior, or performance problem?
- How do I recognize and praise those I lead?
- What are the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats of the team I lead?
- What direction do I want this team to go in?
- How prepared am I to be a leader?
- How do I coach those that are being difficult to be better and do what I ask?

Available as a Full Day or Half Day Course

Transition from Buddy to Boss™ is an ideal leadership development course for new managers and managers who may not have been given sufficient leadership training in the past. Going beyond the mere basics of management, this course is designed to help new managers overcome favoritism, challenges in communication, and confusion about how to coach, guide, develop and discipline the very employees they use to hang out with or talk to about "management".
